THE
6 Per Ct. Gold Bonds
OF THE
TOPEKA, SALINA AND WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Delhi, 161 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a territory without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$180,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $400,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $850.00 and accrued interest from Jan. 1, 1883, five shares of stock, par value $100 each, and a $1,000 bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co. of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co., New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

These bonds are worthy the attention of careful and prudent investors. Full information furnished on application to

LIVING WITNESSES

You can Avoid the biliousness of Spring by purification of the blood and the expulsion of foul humors. Impure blood gives you a pale, sickly color, with a dark, yellow tinge. The low temperature of a severe winter often leaves heavy, dark lines beneath your eyes. You are drowsy and sleepy. Be admonished. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla before the eruptions break through the skin.

Blood Disorder.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 18, 1883.

I TAKE pleasure in sending you a testimonial showing the efficacy of Hood's Sarsaparilla in a case of Blood Disorder, which came under my personal observation. It was a severe case, and the cure is regarded as wonderful.

F. H. McCULLY.
Lafayette Pharmacy, Congress st.

A young girl, 9 years old, had been troubled with a disorder in her blood since infancy. Her sight, as well as her hearing, was affected. She was obliged to leave school, for none of the children would sit beside her. Her parents tried many medicines, and she was admitted a patient in one of our hospitals, but without relief. The mother had found Hood's Cook Book of value, and was impressed by the wonderful cures published in it. She resolved to try Hood's Sarsaparilla on her daughter. The result was most happy. On the second bottle, the child began to improve, and after three bottles her sight and hearing returned. She has now used five bottles, and is about cured.

Lanced 10 Times.

LYME CENTRE, N. H., Feb 9, 1883.

My little girl was sorely afflicted with Scrofula, from 3 months old till she was 20, when we commenced giving her HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. So virulent was the Scrofula that the doctor had lanced her neck ten times. Then we thought it was time to do something. It was in February, 1882, that she began to take HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. At that time there was a very large bunch on her little face. This we expected to open with the lancet, but, to our surprise, the bunch began to shrink under the influence of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and now it has entirely disappeared. It is gone. Baby is on her third bottle. She is in good flesh. Sores all gone, her appetite is good, and she seems as well as any child.

WM. H. CONANT.

ATTEST: I live neighbor to Mr. and Mrs. Conant, and have always known them and their little girl ever since she was born. The above statement I know to be true.

THEODORE BALCH.

Rheumatism.

Capt. Mitchell of the bark Antoine Sala, New York and Havana trade, came home in May, 1882, entirely helpless with rheumatism. He went to the mountains with his wife, at whose request Capt. Mitchell made use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. He commenced to improve right away under the influence of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and was soon able to return to Brooklyn. In two months from his first trying Hood's Sarsaparilla his rheumatism was gone, and he sailed in command of his vessel a well man. His wife writes: My husband is 48 years of age, and his health is now better than it has been for some time, he has gained several pounds in weight. If any wish to inquire more particularly they can address MRS. M. L. MITCHELL, 791 Monroe street, Brooklyn N. Y.

The great relief and release from suffering obtained in each of the following cases was due to the wonderful power of Hood's Sarsaparilla in purifying the blood, overcoming spring debility, sharpening the appetite, vitalizing and renovating the whole system. This results from its peculiar composition and manufacture. A medicine, like anything else, can be fairly judged by its results.

After Diphtheria.

HATTIE BURNS, my little girl, had the Diphtheria and got well of it. After that she was powerful sick in her bowels, and had fearful hurtings in the small of her back. She was in great pain and distress. We called the doctor, who gave her powders. Upon my word the child grew worse. I had buried eight children, and was very uneasy to save my little girl, we were all so fond of her. But she would lie round the house and get no rest at all. Her insides seemed to be all given out. Ah! well, I didn't know what to do. I sent a neighbor's boy for a bottle of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and that night I gave the little girl the first dose, and again in the morning. Before the day was out she was playing around the house. Her pains were gone. From that day till now she has been well and is wholly recovered. Her flesh has come back, she is fat as ever, and as mirthful and lively as before she was sick—full of spirits to the delight of us all.

MRS. JAMES BURNS,
48 Market Street, Lowell.

Mrs. Burns is the wife of James Burns, the well known and esteemed master slater in Lowell, Mass.

Salt Rheum.

My little four-year-old girl has a powerful eruption on her face and head. Under her eyes it was regular scalding red and sore like a burn. Back of her left ear we had to shave her hair close to her head. Five or six physicians and two hospitals gave up her case as incurable, save that she might outgrow it. When it began to maturate I became alarmed. In three weeks, with Hood's Sarsaparilla, the sores begun to heal, two bottles made her eyes as clear as ever. To-day she is as well as I am.

JOHN CAREY,
154 D Street, South Boston.

Attest: I know John Carey. He is an honest, good man, whose statements are worthy of entire credit. I believe what he says about the child's sickness.

CLINTON H. COOK, Milk st., Boston.

The Lame Walk.

This certifies that I have been troubled with varicose veins and a scrofulous humor for the past 12 or 15 years—at times so severely as to compel me to use a crutch, or to abstain from business entirely. About four months since, upon the recommendation of one of my neighbors, I commenced using HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, and have, up to the present time, used two bottles and a half of it. My leg is entirely healed, I gain daily in strength, and have at all times a good appetite. I can most cheerfully recommend it to any one who is suffering as I was.

C. M. FRENCH, Franklin, N. H.

Mr. French is well known in the upper part of Merrimac county, N. H., and inquiry may be freely made of his wonderful and surprising cure. He has discontinued his crutches, but will show them to any one who will call upon him.

NOTES FROM MOOSEHEAD LAKE.

THE MOUNT KINEO HOUSE,—PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE—THE OLD AND THE NEW—LANDLORD DENNEN—THE POWER OF PLUCK—DESCRIPTION OF THE NEW HOTEL—ETC., ETC.

MOUNT KINEO, June 8, 1883.

As the season of hot weather approaches, the thoughts of the dwellers in cities are turned toward the mountains, lakes and seashores, and they are counting the days before they can lay aside their business cares for the season, and hie away to some cool retreat where surrounded by the beauties of nature and amid the salubrious and health-giving atmosphere they may pass the torrid season in comfort and pleasure, and in recuperating their exhausted energies and preparing for grappling with fresh vigor the duties of the coming year. And at this time while deciding the question of where to go, the thoughts of the thousands, who, during the past years, have enjoyed the delights of Moosehead Lake, will be turned thitherward, and remembering the destruction by the fire-fiend, after the close of last year's season, of the beautiful hotel at Mount Kineo, will be wondering in what condition that favorite resort is to-day, and what will be the facilities for accommodations there the present season. To assist, somewhat, in giving the information desired, and to impart to your readers, generally, an idea of what is now going on in the work of restoration, is the object of the present instalment of "notes."

Fifteen years ago, Capt. Oren A. Dennen, the present popular Superintendent of the Mount Kineo House, took possession of the cottage which was the Kineo House of that day. The following winter the house was destroyed by fire, and the occupants were obliged to seek refuge in the bowling-alley, which alone survived the devouring element. The blow was a disheartening one to the young landlord, but full of pluck and enterprise, for which he has since been noted, he set to work and rebuilt, on a little different location, the hotel, still modest and unpretentious in size and appearance. The increase of patronage consequent upon the growing popularity of the Lake as a watering place, and of Kineo House as a place where one could find that care and attention so requisite to a resort where one is to pass his summer vacation, or to restore his impaired health, made it necessary to add, from time to time, to the size and conveniences of the house, until last year the Mount Kineo House, in its enlarged and completed condition, was not only the pride of its summer guests, the satisfaction of its genial and energetic manager, but an honor and ornament to our State.

Scarcely had the hum of merry voices ceased in its corridors for the season of 1882, when, on the 28th day of October, the terrible cry of "fire" was raised, and in a brief space of time, all that remained of the grand hotel, the adjacent cottage, spacious annex and the boat house were a pile of ashes, the bricks from the chimneys and the unconsumed iron work of the buildings. All that was left on the beautiful peninsula was the barn, which was saved with the greatest difficulty, the cottage of Capt. Brown in the rear of the garden, and two small buildings used as tool houses. All else was swept away and the accumulations of years were, in the briefest space of time, as if they had never been. To say that Mr. Dennen was not, at first stunned and disheartened would be to say that he was either less or more than human; but he was like the "good man" of whom it is written by the psalmist: "Though he fall he shall not be utterly cast down, for the Lord upholdeth him with his hand;" and scarcely were the ashes cold before the sound of the axe was heard cutting down the trees which were to furnish the lumber for a new home. Before winter had closed in, a comfortable cottage, two stories in height and 28x70 feet in dimensions was erected and in readiness to accommodate the winter's travel, of which the lumbering interests around the lake and on the head waters of the Penobscot river afford so much.

Meanwhile, a busy brain was at work, planning ways and means to erect a new hotel in the place of the one destroyed, and to-day begins to show the fruition of the work. Engineers and architects have surveyed the grounds and drawn the plans, and now the sound of the spade, the axe, the saw and the hammer are giving evidence of the work accomplished by that planning brain, and of the fact that we shall shortly have our eyes delighted, and our hearts made glad by the new and beautiful building, far surpassing that of the past. The plans of the new hotel have been drawn by Mr. Vinal, of Boston, and a contract has been made for the excavation, masonry, and the erection of the superstructure of the hotel, and the building of the annex, with Messrs. Charles B. Brown, and Sawyer Brothers of Bangor, both of whom are on the ground the present week, and will push the work to the utmost; and they will be ably seconded by their master carpenter, Major James M. Davis, of Bangor, who has so successfully superintended the erection of so many of the buildings in your city, and later the extensive pulp mills at Bradley. The impossibility of erecting and completing so large a building during the present season, has rendered it necessary to commence work first upon the annex, which is to be a building 40x70 feet, and three stories in height, [illegible] which will contain an office 18x25, a store 26x30, with store-room in the rear 14x30, together with other rooms needed. The work of raising the frame was begun on Wednesday, and the work will be driven with the utmost dispatch, so that the building will be nearly ready for occupancy from the first to the tenth of July. Next to the annex, a boat house 30x60 is now being built.

THE NEW HOTEL.

The site selected for the new hotel is to the West and in front of the stable, and almost identical with the site of the original house burned in 1868. The formation of the land, falling rapidly off toward the West, gives an excellent opportunity for a basement which will contain a billiard hall 46x46, barber's shop and private room, bar room, wine cellar, porter's room, wash room, store rooms, and baggage room, from which an elevator will convey baggage to the upper part of the house. On the northeasterly wing the basement contains the engine room, in which will be placed an engine of sufficient capacity to run the elevator, pump the water, and furnish power for the machinery of the laundry, a dining room for the servants, room for the working-men, laundry, drying room, unpacking room, milk and butter room, ice room, cutting room and store rooms. Above the basement the main building is three stories high in the clear, with large attic, and a tower on the southeast corner three stories above the main house. The building fronts the south, as did the former one, and its dimensions are as follows: front, 161 feet 6 inches, east side 157 feet 6 inches, from which extends an ell, placed at an angle of 45 degrees from the main house, 52 feet 3 inches in length. Width of main building, 47 feet 6 inches, of east wing 51 feet 6 inches. A grand piazza extends around the main house, fifteen feet wide and 458 feet in length, while a balcony on the front center, and another on the rear, looking toward Kineo, afford additional fine opportunities for enjoying the summer breezes, protected from the sun. The first floor is occupied as follows: Office 46x46, containing clerk's desk and counter, check counter and telegraph office; private office, reading room, corridor at foot of grand staircase 35x35, reception room, play room, wash room, parlor 30x46 and music room, 46x40. The parlor and music room are simply separated by curtains, which can be drawn and throw them into one room. The east wing contains a magnificent dining room, 50x110 feet, of an ordinary capacity for 360 plates, but which can, without crowding, seat 400 guests. The ceiling of the room is supported by trusses leaving the entire dining room without a break in the way of supporting posts. The ell contains a very large serving room, store room, scullery, pastry room, kitchen, and a dining room for nurses and children. At the head of the dining room are rooms for the head waiter and for ice. The second floor contains 48 sleeping rooms, all of them roomy and desirable, a hall for the use of the servants, linen room, bath rooms, water closets, etc., etc. Each sleeping room throughout the house is provided with a clothes press. The corridors are 8 feet in width. The third floor contains the same number of sleeping rooms as the second, and also has corridors 8 feet wide. The fourth floor contains 38 chambers, the fifth and sixth floors, in tower, six each, and the seventh, four large chambers, the elevator, as well as the stair case, affording easy access to all. The cottage will be removed to the spot where the old one stood, beyond, and across the street from the annex, the barn will be moved and placed end to the street, beyond the cottage, and the hotel will have no building nearer than 200 feet from it. The grounds will be handsomely graded and leveled for lawn tennis and croquet grounds. The lumber for the buildings is being prepared by a steam saw mill, erected for the purpose at the head of the cove west of the peninsula, and which contains a single saw, lath saw, rip saw, planer, etc., and which, besides the convenience of furnishing the lumber right on the ground, will effect a large saving in expense. The bricks will be furnished from Sandy Bay, where a brick yard, with excellent and plentiful deposits of clay and sand has been established during the year past, and which affords a great saving over the former expense for transportation.

The work of excavating for the foundation has already begun and the foundation will be laid and the building framed, studded and boarded the present season, and finished on the opening of spring in season for the opening of the extension of the B. and P. Railroad and the season of 1884. Meanwhile, with the accommodations afforded by the cottages already erected, and the annex now under way, Mr. Dennen will be able to accommodate from 75 to 100 guests, and those who visit Kineo this season will find the table, attendance and furnishing up to the old standard. The store is re-established and ready, as usual, to supply sportsmen and fishing parties with everything required. In addition to the buildings described, a large and commodious boarding house for the workmen on the buildings, 60x26 and two stories high has been built, giving ample accommodation for sixty persons, and also a cottage for Mr. Henry Sawyer, who has charge of the steam mill; so that when all is done, Mt. Kineo will present the appearance of quite a village. Success to the new hotel and its genial manager. J. S. R.

STATE NEWS.

Cumberland.

Some seven or eight unoccupied cottages have been broken into recently at Pine Point. The parties seem to have been actuated as much by a disposition for mischief as for plunder. Furniture is broken and disfigured, there being few valuables left in the cottages to be carried off.

The Oxford Advertiser says Orlando Brown recently moved his family from Otisfield to Elk River, Minn., and on the way there his wife and children caught the measles, and about two weeks after reaching their home Mrs. Brown died, and one child was not expected to live when the last report from them was received. Mr. Brown was a soldier in the late war.

Wm. Foster, a rigger, about 45 years of age, was badly injured in Portland, Thursday. He was at work on the new schooner B. C. Cromwell, lying at Central wharf. Foster was standing within a large coil of rope on the after house when the shears fell upon him, bruising his head, starting several ribs and breaking one leg just above the ankle, in two places.

The new Portland branch of the Land League was organized Thursday evening, with Gen. J. J. Lynch president.

[illegible] 80 correspondents, representing every county in this State, which indicate that the season, although unusually backward, is very promising. Pastures are in excellent condition and the farm stock is doing splendidly. There is a full average acreage of most hoed crops, an increase of potatoes, and a falling off in wheat. Farm help is scarce and wages high—a sure indication of business activity and prosperity.

The programme for the 4th of July at Gardiner will consist of boat races, athletic sports of various kinds, tub races, log races, and a general celebration in the evening. The single scull race will be for the championship of the Kennebec river.

The Journal says A. G. Barnard, of Sidney, was kicked by a horse, Wednesday, but not seriously injured, it is hoped.

F. K. Field, of Sidney, had an elbow dislocated, Wednesday, by being thrown from a carriage, his horse being frightened by a bunch of hay carelessly left in the road.

The Kennebec Journal says that Hon. John May, of Winthrop, has fallen heir to a vast fortune in Indiana.

Knox.

A telegram has been received by the friends of Capt. Seth Arey, of South Thomaston, announcing the loss of his son, aged about fourteen years, from his vessel, the Nahum Chapin, on the passage from Boston to Brunswick, Ga. A crew put out to rescue him, but their boat was swamped, and they were saved with difficulty. Mrs. Arey was on the vessel at the time. Capt. Arey and wife will have the sympathy of many friends, in their bereavement.

Wm. H. Glover & Co. are to rebuild a schoolhouse at Vinalhaven which will accommodate the High school recently established. A second story and a tower are to be added.

Piscataquis.

The Eastern State says that on Wednesday evening, a man in Dover, named Brown, got drunk and threatened to kill his wife. She left the house, and during her absence he destroyed most of her clothing and thoroughly frightened the neighboring families. His case is being investigated by the authorities.

Sagadahoc.

The Times says a seal was captured by a Bath man, Tuesday. At first he was quite savage, but finally became tamed down so that when any one patted him upon the head he would make a noise just like a pet dog. In fact he seemed pleased to be taken notice of. His age can not exceed two or three days. He is about two and one half feet in length, and of a very pretty color.

Waldo.

Warren Goodrich, of Burnham, lost three cattle last week, and has three more that are expected to die. It is supposed they were poisoned, as Paris Green was found scattered around in his pasture.

The friends of Capt. Charles Waterhouse desire to contradict the newspaper report that he died from an over-dose of laudanum, as letters from Melbourne confirm the telegraph news first received, that Capt. Waterhouse died from apoplexy, which is hereditary, and from which he had several times been prostrated. His wife had been warned months before by physicians to expect his death at any time from the disease.

Mr. Waterman, of Belfast, has built up quite a business in the purchasing of frogs for the Boston market. As food the frog becomes more popular year after year. He made his first shipment for the season last week. Last year Mr. Waterman shipped his frogs alive, but now he dresses them and ships in ice. The operation of preparing them is very simple. They are first killed by striking them on the head, then they are placed on a hook and the hind quarters, the only part that is eaten, are cut off. This part is skinned, the cuticle peeling as easily as a banana. Mr. Waterman has fishermen employed in all parts of the county. He keeps his frogs alive until a sufficient quantity has been purchased for a shipment.

THE CHIEF JUSTICESHIP.

The prominent part which the Supreme Court of Maine has been compelled by circumstances to assume, and the important service it has rendered the cause of popular government in critical emergencies during a few years past, invests with unusual public interest the approaching close of the official term of the venerable and honored Chief Justice Appleton, after a most distinguished career of more than thirty-one years on the Supreme Bench, covering the most eventful period in the country's history, and embracing judicial services that will never fail to be cherished in grateful remembrance by the people of the State. The same public interest that attaches to whatever affects our highest tribunal of law, has also directed itself to the consideration of the choice of Chief Justice Appleton's successor, and with rare and remarkable if not unprecedented unanimity, the preference of the Bar and the people in all parts of the State has spontaneously centred upon Judge Appleton's accomplished and able colleague and fellow-citizen, the Honorable John A. Peters.

This expression is confined to no locality or section, but is as warmly enthusiastic in distant counties as among the people of this neighborhood, and is a natural and voluntary recognition of the qualities which pre-eminently fit Judge Peters for the graceful, acceptable and excellent discharge of the duties of Chief Justice. So general has this manifestation of preference been, that there was a sense of surprise when the Lewiston Journal recently indicated a purpose to contest the choice in behalf of the Androscoggin member of the Court, whose long service and eminent abilities are conceded by all, but who had not been indicated by any general manifestation of preference as best adapted by temperament and habit of mind to the duties of Chief Justice. We regret that there should be a disposition to check the quiet and even flow of a decided public sentiment by opening an antagonizing canvass for this high judicial office, and we can but deprecate the aggressive spirit in which our Lewiston contemporary has entered the lists to oppose the manifest judgment of the Bar and people of the State. It is needless to say that Judge Peters is taking no part in the movement in his behalf and has done nothing to influence the public opinion that sets so strongly in favor of his appointment. He would also discountenance any attempt to put him into sharp antagonism of competition with either of his colleagues, and as his friend we should carefully avoid seeming to enter any such personal controversy. We cannot consent, however, to admit by silence the truth of the Journal's assertion that the appointment of Judge Peters would be regarded by his associates as a reflection upon them, for we are very sure our contemporary is not authorized to make such a statement, but that the contrary would prove to be the fact.

The stress laid by the Journal upon the mere fact of Justice Walton's seniority in service also seems to us an indication that other and more practical reasons are not so strongly relied upon. The selection of Chief Justices of State and United States Supreme Courts has been regarded as a specialty, and the appointing power has not been governed by rotation in making such selections. We have already quoted the facts in relation to the Supreme Courts of Maine and of Massachusetts, and the record shows that every one of the great jurists who have worn the ermine of the Chief Justiceship of the United States Supreme Court was appointed from outside of its existing membership, the list including the illustrious names of Jay, Ellsworth, Marshall, Taney, Chase and Waite, while of the only two persons nominated for Chief Justice while members of the Court, John Rutledge was rejected by the Senate and William Cushing declined.

The principle which Washington applied in the early days of the Republic and which later gave to the Bench and to the world the magnificent services of John Marshall cannot be a very harmful one to apply to-day; and that principle was and is to consider the Chief Justiceship as an office requiring special traits and qualities of mind and disposition, a felicitous combination of learning and tact, of judicial ability and knowledge of human nature, of dignity imbued with a kindliness that will tend to bring the individualities of a Court into the harmony of strength and usefulness.

The possession of these traits in a pre-eminent degree by Judge Peters has caused the general public expectation of and desire for his appointment as Chief Justice. In this feeling there is nothing invidious or unfriendly to any other member of the Court, but the evidence is abundant on every hand that his selection will be cordially approved by his associates on the Bench, by the members of the Bar, and by the greater public in whose interest the laws are made and administered.

A Concord despatch to the Boston Journal says: Hon. William E. Chandler has arrived in Concord, called thither by the continued serious illness of his mother. At the Eagle he was approached by an acquaintance and was interrogated on the subject of his possible candidacy for United States Senator, and was told that there were several active young Republican representatives who are desirous of tendering him their support. Mr. Chandler said: "I reiterate the statement that I have heretofore made, which is that I am not and under no circumstances shall I be a candidate for Senator at this session. Regarding the question of two elections I am positive in the belief that it will be illegal to choose more than one Senator at this time."

The old feud between the Lanier and Kirby families of Louisiana will soon be at an end. Nine of each have been killed in the last 17 years and when the two remaining Laniers and the three surviving Kirbys have been shot, as they will be ere long, it will be all over with.

We are very glad to see the Associated Press despatch from Denver stating that the Grand Army of the Republic in Colorado have taken decided action in discountenancing and censuring the misuse of the name and influence of the Order by the officers of that Department in furtherance of a mining speculation. We received the circulars in an official envelope of the Colorado G. A. R. Headquarters and are glad to learn that this surprising misuse of G. A. R. relations has been emphatically re- [illegible]

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

An important case of interest to every traveller on the railroads was tried before Judge Stow, in Common Pleas, at Pittsburg, Penn.

William Gardner had entered suit to recover damages from the Pullman Palace Car Company for property lost while on one of the company's cars. He was coming from Philadelphia, and while asleep his watch and purse were taken from him. The Pullman company tried to compromise, but Gardner was obdurate, because he had been robbed three times on sleeping cars. In presenting the case Gardner's counsel took the ground that the company was responsible as bailee, just as the driver of an express wagon is responsible.

The company's defence in part was that valuables should be placed in the safe provided for that purpose. The assistant superintendent acknowledged while on the stand that owing to the manner in which the cars are now arranged a professional thief could reach through and rob a passenger in an adjoining berth without being detected.

Judge Stowe said that the case was one of those called into existence by new inventions and one that required close examination. He did not consider the company responsible as a hotel keeper or a common carrier, but when the company sold a ticket for $2 in addition to the regular rates of passage, and offered the facilities for sleeping as an inducement to pay the extra money, it bound itself to protect its patrons while they were asleep and for the time being helpless.

The jury brought in a verdict for the full claim with interest. An appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court and the matter finally decided. But in the mean time the suits will pile up, another having already been brought.

The case has attracted the attention of railroad men and sleeping car companies all over the country because there was never another like it tried.

The New Haven Palladium says: The Maine newspapers, mentioning the retirement of the venerable Chief Justice John Appleton of the Supreme Court, speak of Associate Justice John A. Peters as his probable successor. Judge Peters is an able jurist whose legal learning and acumen has shed renewed lustre on the judiciary of the Pine Tree State. He was a leading member of the Penobscot bar previous to his honorable career in Congress, and is specially fitted by taste, education, and years for the position. Judge Peters is a graduate of Yale class of '42.

Lieut. Ernest A. Garlington, who will have command of the Greely Relief Expedition, was graduated at West Point in 1876, and, at his own request, waived the privilege of a leave of absence and joined the 7th cavalry, then in the field in the Department of Dakota. He served in all the campaigns of the regiment and has an excellent record for soldierly qualities. He is a young man with a well-knit, wiry frame, and is distinguished for courage and determination.

Horatio Seymour warns the Democracy that they are acting like fools over the tariff question. But, honored and respected sir, how can they help acting like fools? Can the Ethiopian change his skin?—Press

In the course of a few weeks a marble statue of General Zachary Taylor will be unveiled beside his grave, eight miles from Louisville, Ky. The exact date has not been fixed but great interest has already been shown in the memorial. All the survivors of the Mexican war are to be specially invited to the ceremony, and General Thomas L. Crittenden, who served on General Taylor's staff in Mexico, has been asked to deliver the oration. General Grant has promised to be present if possible. The date of the unveiling will be fixed as soon as the statue arrives from Italy. The statue, which is life-size, will stand upon a shaft of Massachusetts granite forty feet high.

It has been officially ascertained, according to a London despatch, that there is no foundation for any alarming rumors that may have been recently put in circulation in regard to the state of the health of the Queen. Her Majesty is stated to be advancing slowly toward the complete recovery of her health. She is pronounced to be decidedly better since she has been at Balmoral, where she took up her residence on May 25. The Court Circular issued Wednesday states that her Majesty drove out twice on Monday in the company of Princess Beatrice. The fact that the Prince of Wales was at the races at Ascot Heath show conclusively that no alarm is felt in the Royal Household about the condition of the Queen. None of the London newspapers have anything concerning her Majesty other than the statements in the Court Circular.

The new movement to reorganize the Republican party in the South, says the Tribune, is treated with suspicious silence by the Bourbon papers in that section. But very few references have been made to it. This cannot arise from contempt, for it was believed that the project could be ridiculed safely the Bourbons would not be slow to do it. A more natural explanation of their silence is that they recognize that the movement is well timed and the conditions favorable for its success. The most sagacious politicians in the South know that the Republicans need only to show the same energy and foresight there that they have displayed in the North to permanently split the Solid South.

GENIAL LYDIA PINKHAM!

A Western paper remarks that her face was her fortune and that one could not survey its placid and gracious outline and fail to be convinced that they ought to buy what it blessed with its approval and told you where to buy. If nature had only blessed us with a candid, benignant, buy-me-and-I'll-do-you-good-countenance, we should just put our phiz in the paper and say under it, and take our chances for trade. But we are not endowed with those persuasive, beguiling, scoop-'em-in-looks of Lydia's, and so have to depend on the old, stereotyped mode of advertising. While we think of it we must say, that some dealers do add to their ill gotten gains by the expensiveness of their cheek—such cheek as that which unblushingly tells you they have a similar boot to the Dongola, when they well know they are different from any other goods sold. For these boots and the

All agree that it would be difficult to overestimate the importance of the Boston yard in time of war and that it should be so improved as to utilize the water frontage to the utmost extent and at the earliest moment, also that any proposal to dispose of this magnificent property cannot be too strongly condemned All agree that the ropewalk should be kept in operation and that the sailmakers department should be kept [illegible]

"HOME, SWEET HOME."

Remains of John Howard Payne

Removed to Their Final Resting Place.

WASHINGTON, June 9. The remains of John Howard Payne were to-day interred in Oak Hill Cemetery in the beautiful spot provided by Mr. W W Corcoran, his early friend, now one of Washington's oldest and most munificent citizens. The pageantry of the funeral procession and ceremonies of the occasion partook of the character of a national tribute to the memory of one who holds a lasting place in the hearts and homes of the American people. Yesterday afternoon the remains were taken from the receiving vault at Oak Hill, where they were deposited upon their arrival here on the 26th of March, and were placed in the Corcoran art gallery where at 4 o'clock this afternoon the procession formed

The remains were borne from the building shortly after four o'clock and placed in a hearse that had been specially built for the occasion and was drawn by four horses. The procession comprised many military detachments under command of Brevet Major General R B Ayres, followed by about fifty carriages with relatives of John Howard Payne, the orator of the day, the poet, President of the United States, members of the Cabinet, members of the Diplomatic Corps, Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, Chief Justice and Judges of the United States Court of Claims, members of the Senate and House of Representatives, and Mr Corcoran and family

The Monument

The procession reached the cemetery shortly past five o clock. On the front of the shaft is the inscription, "John Howard Payne author of "Home, Sweet Home," born June 9 1792, died April 10, 1852 On the back is this inscription, which was on the tombstone that marked his grave in Tunis

"Sure, when thy gentle spirit fled
To realms above the azure dome
With arms outstretched God's angels said,
Welcome to Heaven's Home, Sweet Home."

This was written by Mr R S Chilton, the author of the poem which was read on the present occasion. On the sides are medallions in relief One bears a lyre enclosed in a wreath of laurel, the other, an open scroll crossed by a pen which is surrounded by a wreath of palms. When the procession reached the cemetery the escort opened ranks, the coffin was taken from the hearse and bore to a bier at the side of the monument, where it remained during the exercises, and the speakers and distinguished guests of the occasion took seats upon a platform which had been reserved for them On the left side were seated the singers, about one hundred members of the Philharmonic Society and Marine Band. In front rested the casket pillowed with flowers and evergreens which in careless profusion completely concealed the bier. Just as the first low strains from the band of were heard, a few drops of rain came pattering down through the foliage and seemed to add poetic cadence to the music. The exercises were formally opened by reading portions of the Scripture by Rev Dr Leonard followed by music, quartette and chorus, "Blest are the Departed" and the 'Last Judgment," by the Philharmonic Club, after which came a poem by Mr Robert S Chilton The monument was then unveiled and Payne's "Home, Sweet Home" was sung by a full chorus, with the band accompanying, the entire audience rising to their feet and uniting with the chorus in singing the last verse A funeral oration was then delivered by Mr. Leigh Robinson Then followed interment ceremonies, Bishop Pinckney, officiating, taking a position at the head of the bier and Rev Wm Leonard at the foot the coffin was lowered to its final resting place in the vault which had been prepared for it directly beneath the monument

THE NAVAL ACADEMY.

A Remarkable Scene.

ANNAPOLIS, Md, June 9. There was a scene at the Naval Academy graduation this morning that has never been witnessed at that institution, nor never probably excelled in dramatic interest at any commencement exercises. The cadets had listened with great interest and applauded to the echo the address of Mr Mills to the graduates, and then Capt Ramsay, Superintendent of the Academy, arose to deliver the diplomas. Behind him, seated on the platform, were Dr Leavitt, President of St John's College, members of the Board of Visitors, members of the Academy Board and a number of ladies The name of S Dana Greene Jr, the honor man of the class was called, and as Cadet Greene stepped forward to receive his diploma a number of the cadets broke into cheers, the usual course on commencement day when a favorite steps to the front to receive the testimony of his graduation.

In an Instant

the bright and cheery scene was changed Capt Ramsay's countenance lowered and in a voice broken by anger he said "You show your insubordination and attempt to disgrace yourselves and the Naval Academy before the eyes of the country. Those who applauded march to the front," and then to the astonishment of the spectators, twenty cadets stood before the irate Superintendent, who said to Lieut Greene, who followed them up, 'Take them to the Santee' until further orders.'" Several of the convicted cadets' parents were present and saw their sons march off to prison, and nobody seemed to know the reason. The diplomas were then handed to the remaining graduates in funeral silence, the situation being painful and gloomy. This over the cadets were marched out to the new quarters, where they were dismissed Then it was.

Discovered

that the first words Capt. Ramsay had spoken and which were heard but by a few that there should be no applauding and the unfortunate cadets, like nearly all audiences, had not heard it. The officers and cadets crowded around the superintendent and represented the situation and Capt. Ramsay relented and ordered all who had not heard the orders to be released In an hour the cadets were once more at liberty. The cadets say the reason why Capt. Ramsay did not want any applauding was that there were several of his "spoonies," as the cadets call some of their fellows, who stand by the captain in the graduating class, who would have been marked by disapproving silence.

The Fenian Flag.

CARUNNA, July 10. An English brig lying in the harbor here recently hoisted at her mainmast a Fenian flag. The flag was was green with a white cross in the centre At the same time she was flying a small English flag at her foremast. The English consul sent a messenger aboard to order the captain to lower the green flag, but the messenger met with rough treatment on the vessel. The consul then summoned the assistance of the Spanish coast guard and eventually a party of armed sailors boarded the vessel and removed the objectionable flag.

Maj. Nickerson Mysteriously Disappears—His Divorce Declared Illegal.

WASHINGTON, June 9. Adjt. Gen Drum to-day received an official telegram from Philadelphia announcing that the decree of divorce in the case of Maj A H Nickerson had been set aside and declared null and void. Immediately upon its receipt the general of the army directed Gen. Drum to issue papers for the immediate arrest of Maj Nickerson, preparatory to his being tried by court martial on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman The papers were issued this afternoon and a messenger was dispatched at once to serve them upon him. It is thought however that there will be difficulty in finding him as it is the general impression that he has left for parts unknown For several days past his whereabouts have been a mystery to his intimate acquaintances No detail for a court martial will be made until Maj Nickerson has been arrested Efforts to find any trace of him in Washington to-day were fruitless The Secretary of War instructed the Paymaster General to withhold his pay as a retired army officer

Postmasters' Salaries.

The Postmaster General has decided that, under the recent act of Congress directing the readjustment of salaries of certain Postmasters, where it was not done under section 8 of the act of June, 1866, no Postmasters are to be included within the legislation unless they failed to receive a biennial readjustment of their salaries upon the basis fixed by the act of June, 1854, (i e, actual quarterly returns) for two years, when such readjustment would have them a loss of 10 per cent compared with a readjustment on a basis of their average quarterly returns for two years

Consolidation of Internal Revenue Districts.

It is stated that the President for some time past has been giving close attention to the question of consolidating the internal revenue districts, and that he will dispose of the matter before the first of July.

A Remonstrance

The Treasury Department to-day received a communication from the Collector of Customs at Detroit remonstrating against the action of Canadian steamers in carrying passengers between American ports on the northern lakes as prejudicial to American interests. A case is cited where one American steamboat had a contract to convey a party of excursionists to a well known resort and afterwards lost it because one of the Canadian steamboat owners stepped in and offered to take the party at a much lower rate The department will take measures to stop the practice complained so far as their power extends.

Artificial Oyster Propagation.—Partially Successful Experiments by a Maryland Professor.

Professor Ryder of the United States Fish Commission, is very hopeful that this season's experiments will prove the feasibility of oyster propagation and cultivation by artificial means He proposes to continue the work this year at some place in or near Chesapeak Bay. The deterioration of the natural oyster beds of that bay and the adjacent waters awaken the solicitude of the Maryland Legislature, and it has created a Commission to inquire into the present condition of the oyster beds and report to the next General Assembly, with a view to legislation for the protection and increase of the oysters in Maryland waters.

Professor W. K. Brooks, of Johns Hopkins University, is President of the Commission. In conversation recently Professor Brooks said "I discovered five years ago that it is possible to hatch oysters in unlimited numbers from the eggs, and to keep them alive for a few days and for some time after they have developed their shells If these young oysters could be reared until they are large enough to handle and plant, the supply of oysters would be increased indefinitely There would be none of the uncertainty which attends fish hatching, for the young oysters would stay where they are put, and would be as tangible as potatoes. The great importance of the subject has led many naturalists to experiment within the last five years, but they have not advanced beyond the point where I left the subject. The difficulty which they have met is due to inability to renew or replace the water without losing the oysters, as they are so small that no method of straining can be employed Last winter I designed an apparatus to meet this difficulty, and the Johns Hopkins University paid the expenses It is a system of inclined troughs with ledges on the bottoms, like those used in gold washing The young oysters are caught like the gold in the pockets formed by the ledges, while the water flows on. A renewed supply of water is poured into the top of the trough by a steam pump Young oysters only four days old were put into the apparatus and none of them have escaped, although all the water has been replaced many times.

"These oysters which are now nine days old, are still healthful and vigorous, so the experiments are so far successful. The apparatus has completely removed the obstacle which has stopped all investigation up to this time, and it will, therefore, allow me to try other experiments Thus far the new method is a success, but the oysters have not grown. Out of many hundreds I have found only three which are any larger than they were when they were put into the machine. The weather has been cold and unfavorable and their failure to grow may be due to this, or to a lack of proper food, or to some cause as yet unsuspected I feel, though, that I have command of the subject and can now experiment until I find what is needed "

A MINING SCHEME DENOUNCED

Improper Use of Grand Army Influence

DENVER, Col, June 10 The Grand Army of the Republic by unanimous vote denounced in unmeasured terms the Veteran Mining Company, which recently sent circulars throughout the east urging comrades to invest in the stock, and in the severest terms censures the Colorado department officials for lending their official influence to the scheme It was shown by the records of the country where the mines are claimed to be located that the company has no vested titles of property, and whether the mines have any value whatever is seriously questioned.

A Nuisance Which Should be Abated.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

Will you not through the columns of your paper call the attention of the authorities to a method of advertising, which is on the increase, and which must soon result in some serious accident. I refer to the practice, especially on windy days, of throwing from windows and roofs quantities of circulars which whirl down upon the heads and around the feet of horses. Saturday, on Hammond street near Warren's Drug Store, a horse attached to a carriage, containing a child, turned suddenly as a lot of paper came down upon him, and but for the quick hand of a passer-by would have dashed away, and quite likely added another victim to the long list of runaway accidents; and later in the day a similar thing took place near Harlow's Drug Store. Energy in the circulation of printer's ink is to be commended, but the safety of life and limb, and protection of valuable property should have the first consideration and it is to be hoped that the proper authorities will not wait [illegible]

CHILDREN'S DAY IN THE CITY CHURCHES.

Sabbath School Anniversary at the Second Baptist—Floral Concert by the First Methodists in City Hall.

The address by Rev Mr Bicknell a former pastor of the Society, was both entertaining and instructive and received close attention The special subject was how to study and teach the Sunday School lesson and it was especially valuable to teachers Such earnest words can but stimulate others in advancing the good work

The floral decorations were unusually elaborate and attracted marked attention. The arrangements of flowers were under the charge of a committee of six ladies, with Mrs F H Noble as chairman The entire front of the platform and pulpit was banked with cut flowers and ferns. To the right and left were stands filled with flowering plants and in the background were evergreen trees The flowers were very profuse and also tastily arranged Mr Geo W E Barrows is the Superintendent of the School

On the arches to the right and left were the mottoes, "Children's Day and "Feed My Lambs" Directly under the center arch was a cross of evergreen with a shield of white, surrounded by evergreen and flowers, and containing the words, "Consider the Lilies" From the arches were suspended cages containing birds and on the platform to the right and left were tables with handsome bouquets of flowers while on the wall in the rear was a beautiful floral anchor

ATHLETICS AT COLBY

Field Day Contests on the Waterville Trotting Park

Our regular Waterville correspondent writes The Colby Athletic Association held its annual field day contests on the Waterville Trotting Park, Friday afternoon The day was fine and the attendance large, as usual.

The track was not in a good condition but still the records made were remarkably good and such as Colby has reason to be proud of. The winners and their records are as follows

One mile run, won by Nowell, '84, 5 minutes, 6½ seconds.

Running high jump, won by Robinson, '83, 4 feet, 9 inches

Pole vault, tie between Morton, '86, and Small, '86, 7 feet, 2 inches

One mile walk, won by Moulton, '84, McIntosh, '84, second. No time given.

Hop, skip and jump, won by Emerson, '84, 41 feet, ½ inch.

Horizontal bar contest, won by Wightman, '85, Small '86, second Standing long jump, won by Wightman, '85, 9 feet, 11 inches, Edmunds, '85, second.

Throwing hammer, won by Tilton, '83, 75 feet, 5½ inches, Beverage, '86, second.

Vault, won by Doe, '84, 6 feet, 4½ inches.

Running broad jump won by Emerson, '84, 18 feet, 1 inch.

Hurdle race, won by Doe, '84.

Throwing base ball, won by Trowbridge, '83, 312 feet, 6 inches.

Potato race, won by Wellington, '86, Sandy, '86, second.

One hundred yards dash, won by Emerson, 84, 10½ seconds, Doe, '84, second.

Stilt race, won by Cambridge, '83.

It will be seen that these records, while far excelling those of all other Maine colleges, compare very favorably, also, with the largest colleges in the country. This year has not been an exception to the usual high stand Colby has always taken in athletic sports. She has not only gained wide notoriety on the base ball field but also in contests generally.

THE ROUTES TO KATAHDIN

Statements in Favor of the Patten Route

PATTEN, June 9

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

Your correspondent 'Nopen," I think does us some injustice in his article in relation to the proposed routes to Katahdin He says the route near Medway will be twenty miles shorter than the Patten route Any person by looking at Penobscot county map will see that he is very much in error.

Patterson s, or the Hunt Farm, is the point where the two proposed routes intersect From Medway to that point the distance is from twenty-three to twenty five miles over a road which has not been turnpiked, and from Mattawamkeag to Medway twelve miles, making the distance from Mattawamkeag to Hunt s Farm thirty five to thirty seven miles, only twelve miles of the distance turnpiked

By the Patten route the distance from Mattawamkeag to Patterson s is forty four to forty five miles, with about forty miles of the distance turnpiked, with an actual difference in favor of the Medway route of seven or eight miles, while by the Patten route all but five or six are turnpiked I think parties visiting Katahdin will be anxious to keep the turnpiked route as far as possible, as beyond Patterson's they will probably find all of the 'tote road' they will care to see

We do not object to a road via Medway to Katahdin We simply want the feasibility of the two proposed routes understood by the public and that by the Patten route they can reach the mouth of the Wassataquoik stream with only five or six miles of 'tote road," and by the Medway route they will find twenty three to twenty five miles of "tote road"

Parties leaving Bangor in the morning can reach Patten the same afternoon by cars and Messrs Laing & Jones stages At Patten teams can be procured to take them to Katahdin Lake the next day, making only two days by easy conveyance to Katahdin Lake from Bangor

At Patten are good hotel accommodations, and supplies and guides can always be obtained at reasonable prices Parties are now at work on the Patten route and a gentleman who came over the road to-day says that by Tuesday next persons can go to Patterson's with a single carriage safely and by the last of next week a carriage can be driven to upper crossing on Wassataquoik

IRA B GARDNER

Notes from Northport.

The leafy groves of Northport never looked prettier, more inviting, or cleaner and tempting to visitors than at this writing, for the grass is very green, the ground and streets washed clean and dustless, and the trees are in newly full leaf The season will open earlier than last year Already the pioneers are on the ground, the steamer made her first landing Wednesday and the Waverley House will open in a few days.

The prospects for summer attendance are greater and better than ever before. Considerable building and much repairing has already been done this season. Captain Coombs, of Belfast, has built a huge pavilion and skating rink on south shore, which will be opened next week. It is 80x40 feet, two stories and finished outside in good style. It contains a large floor, galleries restaurant, etc., and will prove a great convenience to visiting parties, picnics, entertainments, etc., during the season.

A large two story building, containing a billiard hall, carriage room, etc., has been built by the proprietors of the Glade House. The Ocean House is open and all its rooms engaged for the season. A nice cottage has been built on Bay View avenue, one on Oak street, and one is building in Hill's pasture. More lumber is coming and much repairing, improving and building will be done before the 4th of July. The growth of Northport has been and is to be steady and permanent.

A large party from Boston have already commenced the season at Saturday Cove, just below the grounds. A new road will be located around the Bluff on the shore from South Shore avenue to Saturday Cove the last of June, which will ensure the growth and success of Northport. This road will pass through and connect "Temple Heights," the Spiritualists' camp [illegible] side season paper, will be continued again by Brackett & Co, of Belfast, commencing in July. It will be enlarged to eight pages, or twice the size heretofore.

KENT'S HILL

Commencement at the Maine Wesleyan Seminary.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Maine Wesleyan Seminary Hon. J. A. Locke was re-elected President and Hon. J. J. Perry, Treasurer. Prof. F. A. Robinson having resigned his position as Secretary, President E. M. Smith was elected in his place. E. R. Drummond was re-elected Auditor, Dr. H. M. Blake, R. W. Dunn, and H. P. Torsey as Prudential Committee. A. J. Blethen, of the Kansas City Journal, proposed to the Trustees to donate $2,000 towards the erection of a President's house. The board extended their thanks for the generous donation, and voted to call the building Blethen Hall. Mr. Blethen is an alumnus of the institution.

The report of the Treasurer shows a very gratifying increase in the invested fund of the institution, some $20,000 in all having been added during the last year, $13,000 of it the legacy of the late S. R. Bearce and $7,000 the legacy of Captain Ammi Loring, of Yarmouth. There will be some changes in the board of instruction, Prof. F. A. Robinson having resigned his professorship after a service of a quarter of a century in the seminary and college. Arrangements are inaugurated for more fully manning the musical department, also for establishing a commercial college.

Tuesday evening there was a prize contest in readings and declamations, two prizes being contested for, one established many years ago by Hon. Judah Dana, for the best declamation by a gentleman, the other established by a gift of R. B. Dunn, Esq., for the lady who shall excel in reading or recitation. There were 17 contestants.

Wednesday the oration before the Literati was delivered by Rev. A. H. Wyatt, of Connecticut. In the evening the commencement concert was given by Ballard's Orchestra and Ada Cary Sturgis.

Agricultural.

Sod plowed in June, and cultivated, will be well fitted to plant to corn next year. The sod will be well rotted, and the land will actually yield more from such cultivation than it would to remain idle. Frequent stirring of the soil is almost as efficient an agent in increasing its fertility as liberal manuring.

Beans are a good crop for planting in June both in field and garden. They will grow upon very light poor land with but little manure and yet they will pay for liberal manuring. With the farmer of moderate means who has plenty of land and plenty of time to cultivate it, yet but little manure and no money to buy fertilizers, the bean crop should be a favorite one.

It will pay to spend half a day going through the fields to see how many vacant spaces there are where seed has failed to come or has been destroyed by birds or insects, and dropping into such places a hill of beans or squashes, or a few turnip seeds or cabbage plants. Such stolen crops are often a success if properly looked after, and helps to pay the interest and taxes on the land, which the lying idle will not do.

Those who have sheep should look them over this month, and decide whether there be not some among them that it will not pay to winter. Cull out all such and give them a little extra feed every day, that they may be fat before coming to the sheds next fall. Such selections are more easily decided upon in large flocks if a record be kept of weight of fleece, number and quality of lambs, age and general healthiness of keep. The above rule can also be profitably applied to dairy stock. Weigh each cow's milk one week this month, and if manufactured into butter, test her cream separately. If she is not paying well for her feed, increase the amount of grain to as much as she will eat and try the milk in September again. By that time if she does not pay for what she has eaten, the butcher probably will be willing to pay all he is worth, either then or a few weeks later.

As haying commences soon, the very first opportunity should be taken to see that mowing machines, rakes, tedders, forks, carts and teams are in readiness for use. If the comparative leisure of winter be employed in the work much valuable time might be saved during the busy season.

Remember that our grandmothers when saving herbs for medicinal purposes, observed that they retained their strength better if they were cured in the shade, and that the time to secure them at their best was when they were just commencing to bloom. If the farmer wishes the clover or other hay to retain its rich juices and sweet flavor, he should follow the above rule—cut as the bloom is coming out, and cure in the heap as far as possible.

One of the best coatings for tree wounds is gum shellac in alcohol. It effectually excludes air and the wound quickly heals over.

There is more difference in men than in the soil they till. Place a good wide awake farmer in one of the most unpromising agricultural neighborhoods and he will not only make his own farm better but also increase the value of all the land in the vicinity.

Now is the time to look to the currant bushes. The worm is ready to commence work with the first warm weather. A little powdered hellebore is an effective and harmless remedy. It may be dissolved, or applied in powder while the currant leaves are wet with due or rain.

Corn for fodder may be sown, or rather drilled, until the first of July. It is a good plan to select an early sweet variety, the Minnesota Early is as good as any. Drill in double rows wide enough apart to allow the cultivator to run through. The stalks of sweet corn are sweeter and will all be eaten while of the coarser varieties more or less will be rejected.

The decayed branches of old trees should be promptly removed. Their unsightliness is the least of their evils. It has been discovered that evaporation of sap from the roots still goes on in these dead branches, though not so rapidly as when leaves are present. If left alone the dead spots extend over the entire tree, and what is alive is of little or no productive value.

An iron toothed rake will kill more weeds in a garden in an hour than a hoe can kill in three hours if both are used when the weeds are just showing their green leaves above the surface, and more than the hoe could in all day ten days later. Such a rake will run over corn, peas, potatoes, onions, carrots and beets until they are two or three inches high, without injury, excepting to the weeds.

Throughout New England the grass crop, as a whole, bids fair to be above the average, insuring large dairy products. Though the season is late, yet the general agricultural outlook is a good one. We note an increased acreage of corn and potatoes, and the promise of an uncommonly large crop of apples for an off year.—Cultivator.

PERSONAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Coffee is being extensively planted on the Islands of the Florida coast.

A severe drough prevails in several important districts of Cuba, and is doing extensive harm.

The President has appointed William S. Roulhac, of North Carolina, to be Secretary of the Civil Service Commission.

Strawberries are so plenty in Southern New Jersey that it is reported that not more than half the crop will be picked.

Five and a half inches of rain fell in five hours at Mobile on a recent Sabbath, and the water was waist deep in some of the streets.

Mr. Charles Sprague Pearce, the Boston artist who has received the medal of the Paris Exhibition, is less than thirty years old, and is almost an invalid because of weak lungs.

A lad at Westchester, Pa., while fishing, was seized in the finger by a snapping turtle, and being unable to shake the creature off walked home three miles and got a blacksmith to pry open the turtle's jaws.

The story that Mrs. Myra Clark Gaines, has compromised with the city of New Orleans is now denied. She says that she will not accept less than $1,934,667.83, and New Orleans refuses to be burdened with a claim so immense.

The snow plow was used for the first time on a railway in India during the past winter. On the 26th of January so heavy a fall of snow took place at Darjeeling that the train could not proceed till a plow had been attached to the locomotive.

As an example of the proclivity of the English to invest in American lands, a few purchases can be mentioned. One company has invested in 311,000 acres of land in Texas, another in 1,300,000 acres of bottom land in Mississippi, another in 2,000,000 acres in Florida. Kansas and Colorado are also favorite regions for the speculations of the English capitalists.

Western Massachusetts has a desperado in Mart Casey. A Pittsfield letter says: "His favorite amusement appears to be to appear in the smaller towns about and capture the place. Upon several occasions he armed to the teeth, has gone to Hancock and Stephentown, and shot off his pistols in the streets and intimidated the whole population. Several efforts have been made to capture him, but without avail. He lives in the Black river district, and an attempt by New York and Massachusetts officers to unite a posse to take him this week failed. He showed himself loaded with pistols, bowie knives and a carbine, and even dared the officers to take him, but as he had the best of it at long range they were forced to let him alone."

The anecdote is told of old Commodore Vanderbilt, that on one occasion during his life, when sitting with his wife and daughter on the piazza of a Saratoga hotel, a somewhat over-dressed lady approached and claimed his acquaintance. The Commodore rose and talked affably with her, while his wife and daughter sniffed the air with scorn. "Father," said the young lady as the Commodore resumed his seat, "didn't you remember that vulgar Mrs. B——, as the woman who used to sell poultry to us at home?" "Certainly," responded the old gentleman promptly, "and I remember your mother when she used to sell root beer at three cents a glass over in Jersey, when I went up there from Staten Island peddling oysters out of my boat." As this homely reply was heard by a group surrounding the family there was no further attempt at aristocratic airs on the part of the ladies during that season.

PLAIN WORDS

Are Best to Express the Suffering so Long Endured by a most Excellent Lady, Mrs. C. Fisher, 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. Her Kind and Grateful Expression towards the Means that Afforded Relief.

Facts clothed in plain words are best. Mrs. George Fisher lives in a pleasant cottage at 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. She says: "I was a terrible sufferer from Liver disease for a period of twelve years. My family physician told me that it was chronic inflammation of the Liver. I tried a great many remedies recommended for liver difficulties. I was under the physician's care a great deal, but could get no relief until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I experienced relief at once and to-day I'm enjoying good health through the use of this. I had also been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders, but I have been cured entirely through the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY a most excellent medicine. I know of many in this city who have received great benefit from the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. It is such a good medicine. I know it, for I've tried it."

Mrs. Fisher is a lady of character and means what she says.

Gratified patients are common. Dr. Kennedy has lately on record piles of letters from them expressing similar sentiments. These letters are spontaneous and put in all varieties of phraseology, but in invariably setting forth one thing—the value of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY for many forms of disease. It may be just the thing you have been looking for. Is your liver disordered? Have you derangement of the Kidneys or Bladder associated with Constipation of the Bowels? If so, you want Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Dr. Kennedy practices medicine and surgery in all their branches. Write and state your case frankly. Letters promptly answered. BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: you procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Advertising Cheats!!!

"It has become so common to write the beginning of an article, in an elegant, interesting manner,

"Then run it into some advertisement that we avoid all such,

"And simply call attention to the merits of Hop Bitters in as plain, honest terms as possible,

"To induce people

"To give them one trial, which so proves their value that they will never use anything else."

"THE REMEDY so favorably noticed in all the papers,

"Religious and secular, is

"Having a large sale, and is supplanting all other medicines.

"There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of Hop Bitters have shown great shrewdness

"And ability

"In compounding a medicine whose virtues are so palpable to every one's observation."

Did She Die?

"No!

"She lingered and suffered along, pining away all the time for years."

"The doctors doing her no good,"

"And at last was cured by this Hop Bitters the papers say so much about."

"Indeed! Indeed!"

"How thankful we should be for that medicine."

A Daughter's Misery.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery,

"From a complication of kidney, liver, rheumatic trouble and Nervous debility,

"Under the care of the best physicians,

"Who gave her disease various names,

"But no relief,

"And now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had shunned for years before using it."—THE PARENTS.

Father is Getting Well.

"My daughters say

"How much better father is since he used Hop Bitters."

"He is getting well after his long suffering from a disease declared incurable."

"And we are so glad that he used your Bitters."
